As the stay-at-home order for Long Island begins to lift, the Lynbrook Library staff are busy preparing our phased reopening. During our closure, the guidelines set by the State and CDC have been closely monitored. We are very mindful of the local, state and federal guidelines that govern our reopening, and we evaluate those inputs daily. We will be taking baby steps forward to bring back library services to you, keeping the health and safety of you and our staff in the forefront.

As Long Island continues to reopen and move through the phases, we will begin to implement our reopening. The library will not fully open on day one, but Monday, June 22 will mark the start of:

Summer Reading Club “Imagine Your Story” This year the library will host a virtual Summer Reading Club. Registration, reporting and programming will be available 24/7 via a home computer, tablet or smartphone. Visit https://www.lynbrooklibrary.org/summer-reading-2020/ for more information.

LPL Lobby Service This new service will bring patrons and library items together once again. Item requests may be placed in the catalog. Once we begin the LPL Lobby Service these requests will be filled and staff will call you to arrange for pickup. Other ways of requesting items are via Live Chat available on the library webpage (www.lynbrooklibrary.org) or beginning June 22 by phone. Staff will place your requests in the catalog and we will call once items are available for you.

On behalf of the Lynbrook Library, Board of Trustees, and the staff we appreciate your patience over the past months. We all look forward to restoring our services and seeing you all again!

Sincerely,
Robyn Gilloon
Library Director
